The Road to Milford:

1:00 pm: It is difficult to describe in words the grandeur and beauty of today. It is often referred to as the best in the world, this enchanting land of mountains, forest, fiords, and lakes, as it was in the beginning... quiet, serene, haunting and mysterious. This is an uninhabited world heritage park. Cloud-capped mountains, calm waters to untold depths, silent, serene and green. This is beauty never to be exceeded. Standing majestic is Mitre Peak, towering a mile high. Travel through the Eglinton Valley and among mountains, lakes, and valleys. It's green! Pass through the avenue of disappearing mountains, see the mirror lakes and pass the entrance to the Hollyford Valley and through the Homer Tunnel to reach the Cleddau Valley leading to Milford Sound.

Today will demonstrate the importance of man and the environment working together to preserve what can never be replaced. If a good breeze is blowing we will sail back into Harrison Cove. Here you will anchor for the evening.

All closed up and cleared away as they say at sea; they then break out the Kayaks for those that would like to paddle their way around the bay. The Ships Tender is lowered, and passengers are taken to the shoreline and able to get up close and personal with the seals and other wildlife

7:00 pm: Dinner will be served in the saloon and after that games are put out, and you will have a fun night together, in this very different southern sound. You are close to 45 degrees south here.
